not so much to itself as to the people. They welcomed the journalistic youngeter at its birth. They have taken it into their consideration. They have taken it into their consideration in the back in its aggressive work against cvil and for the public weal. They have such offer the public weal, they have such offer the public weal. They have such offer the public weal, they have such offer the public was raging, not only parents, but children, called and wrote, then the public was reging, not only parents, but children, called and wrote, they have such the public was reging, not only parents, but children, called and wrote, they have such the public was reging, not only parents, but children, called and wrote, they have such the public was reging, not only parents, but children, called and wrote, they have such the public parents was as also blow struck in the people's case the public the fight was raging, not only parents, but children, called and wrote, they have the public printed itself of a mane was ent to Albany. It is the the public printed itself of the such default in the property of the galaxiton. Little children was the figure and graphic story.

The ANTI-BUSTAL VALUE of the fight was raging, not only parents, but children, called and wrote, they have the public printed itself of the such public printed itself of the such and it public printed itself of the such and i WonLD has never failed in anything it has attempted. It fought the Half-Holiday Repeal bill, and it was defeated. It said Stuyvesant Park must be opened, and it was opened. It said Josie Shephard, the exiled orphan, must be returned to his friends, and he has been "called back," It raided the policy dealers, and five of them were convicted. It started a fund for the Giants Testimonial Bats, and they have been presented. It originated and urged the free lectures for workingmen, and they are at hand. "Nothing succeeds like success."

And its menu will be greater in the future than in the past, because with increased facilities and increased circulation it will be a still better newspaper, an even more entertaining evening companion, and work ever more vigorously and successfully for the publie welfare.

THE GATES THROWN OPEN.

How, After Thirty Years, Stuyvesant Park Was Recovered for the People.

ONE of the many victories achieved by THE EVENING WORLD have been more clean-cut and complete, or more symbolic of its charac ter, than the opening of the gates of Stuy vesant Park. For over thirty years this beautiful casis of green on the east side had been practically the rich man's preserve. Promptly at sundown for a generation the people had been ejected from the gates. The toilers were deprived of the park at the only time of day when they were at leisure to enjoy it, and this simply to suit the exclusive whims of the few aristocrate who live in the immediate neighborhood.

By this long-standing custom the tradition had grown up that Stuyvesant Park was semi-private property, and that the public should be grateful that it was allowed to enter it at any time. THE EVENING WORLD was the first to discover that the park was purely public domain, and not the rich man's front door yard. On July 20 it published in full the deed of good old Peter Stuyvesant, ceding the land to the people to be mainained forever as a Public Square. It thereupon demanded that the sunset sign be torn down and the gates immediately opened to the public. "Render unto the people the things that are the people's," was its watch word. It called a public indignation meeting in Stuyvesant Hall on July 25, and stirring resolutions were passed demanding prompt action by the authorities. The work of THE EVENING WORLD was thus officially recognized by the assembled citizens;

Resolved. That the thanks of this meeting and of the citizens of this district be returned to the Evento the people, and for its persistence and sincere agitation of the subject, and that a duly certified copy of these resolutions be presented to said EVENING WORLD.

A resolution in behalf of the opening was then drawn up and passed by the Board of Aldermen, July 31, at the instance of Twe EVENING WOBLD. In addition to this, blank petitions were printed and circulated and thousands upon thousands of signatures obtained. Step by step the good cause was resolutely fought, until on Aug. 28, th Park Commissioners unanimously ordered the opening of the park in the evening. Electric lights were promptly placed in the park, and on the evening of Sept. 1, it was thrown open to the public for the first time in over thirty years. And it will remain open for the benefit of the generations that

FIGHTING FOR THE HALF HOLIDAY.

A Vigorous Campaign That Prevented th Repeal of the Law.

EW YORK'S whole working population can testify to THE EVENING WORLD'S of forts in retaining for them the Saturday Half - Holiday. This was a great fight and the victory was most signal, On April 30, 1887, a law was passed making Saturday afternoon a legal holiday. It:was a step, at least, towards the disenfranchisement of the toiler from the long daily routine of toil. It was an earnest of what the civilization of this century should bring. But in less than a year from the day the law was passed another bill repealing it was presented to the Legis. lature, and so strong were the exertions of the monopolists and oppressors of labor In forcing it forward that the case of the workers seemed hopeless. It was then that THE EVENTES WORLD came to the rescue, and as the people's champion brought its guns to

The battle was savage and prolonged. The aper's bright young men, armed with petisted, were sent everywhere. The same peti

On Aug. 8 the Repeal bill was vetoed and the Half-Holiday law remained undisturbed. The battle was hard fought, but the cause was just, and thousands were the letters received by THE EVENING WORLD blessing it for the part it took.

THE FREE LECTURE BILL.

Originated and Successfully Urged by "Th Evening World."

was not satisfied with his achievement. It was the people's friend, nd to benefit the people was and ever will be its aim. There were many wageworkers too old or too proud to attend the Evening High School. There were many things that they yearned to know. Comprehensive books were beyond their reach. They saw the electric light, but only vaguely understood its origin. They heard the telephone, but could not comprehend its mechanism. These people were entitled to education, and THE EVENING WORLD determined that they should have the opportunity for it.

A bill was prepared, and Senator Reilly, always ready to help where the people's interests are concerned, laid it before the Senate. It provided for a course of free lectures nightly in every ward in this city. Intelligent lecturers would comprehensively explain the marvels of nature and advancement of science. A young man could take his sweetheart to a pleasing entertainment and return home with the proud feeling of having improved his mind as well as having passed an enjoyable evening. THE EVENING WORLD Free Lecture bill was passed by the Senate on March 29, by the Assembly on May 2, and became a law on June 12.

The securing of lecturers and the subjects were left to the Board of Education, in whose charge are all other arrangements More than two hundred competent lecturer have already been picked out and almost everything is in readiness for the lectures which will soon begin.

THE JOKE CONTEST.

A Tournament of Would-Be Humoriate With Bill Nye as Judge.

HE Joke Contest of THE EVENING WORLD for a prize of $25 for the most original joke was opened July 30. with Mr. Bill Nye as judge. The jokes submitted were large in number, over five thousand being received from all over the country. As Judge Nye observed: "People who had not joked for seventy. five years sat up in bed and wrote something for the contest. Young people neglected their teething in order to compose jokes. Antiquarians came forward with rare things they had found at Herculaneum and lying around in the waste-paper baskets of the mound-builders." In quality the jokes were certainly not all that could be desired. A very large proportion of the good jokes were not original, and many of the original ones were not good. The competition proved that it is easier to read a good joke than to write one. On Sept. 29 Judge Nye awarded the prize to Master Raymond E. Kidder, of 206 East Eighteenth street, a budding humorist of the age of nine. THE RESCUE OF JOSIE SHEPHARD. How an Exiled Orphan Was " Called Back to His Relatives.

HE heart of New York was never more moved to sympathy than by exiled orphan, prisoners. Josie Shephard. On Wonld first published the pathetic letter of

A careful investigation showed that red-tape charity and official negligence were responsible for an atrocity. Imost incredible at this stage of the Nineeenth Century. The injustice of bantahing this seven-year-old lad to the hard lot of an indentured apprentice in far-away Illinois, against the protests of friends and relatives in this city. The Asylum Committee decided adversely on this first appeal.

and the exiled Josie was ordered to be returned to his relatives, and Grandma hephard's heart danced for joy.

Justice and the cause of humanity had triumphed. THE EVENING WORLD had kept its promise to the letter.

"THE EVENING WORLD" PHYSICIAN.

Journalistic Good Samaritan Among the

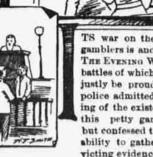

with spasmodically devoting an article to the deplorable features of crowded tenementhouse life in summer, THE EVENING WORLD resolved to dosomething towards alleviating the sad condition of affairs. It accordingly engaged Dr. Chas. N. Cox, a physician in excellent standing, to devote himself in its behalf during the torrid

The doctor began his good work July 11. Day after day he went his rounds among the abodes of poverty, and plenty of work he stowed upon the child of wealth. Several of the city dispensaries kindly agreed to henor patients were too poor to pay. The manufacturers of infants' food generously donated many cases of their preparations for his use. Kind-hearted readers, touched by the tales of suffering and abject destitution printed from day to day, sent scores of bundles of

Though one physician could cover only a small proportion of the immense field for such work in this great city, it is remarkable how much was actually accomplished by diligent effort. Dr. Cox's season closed with the last week of August, and his official report, published Aug. 29, showed that he had visited lies and treated 238 little patients. He had but three deaths to record. How many of the little ones owe their prolonged life to his treatment none can tell. The season's work was very appropriately closed with a big excursion given by THE WORLD, to which all of the wee patients, with their mothers, were invited.

Three Meanest of Gamblers.

There women and children are robbed of their pennies as well as the clerk of his salary. The Evening World was determined to fight them down. For over a month two of its brightest young men devoted their who run them. They discovered more than one hundred policy shors, and obtained convicting evidence against six of the most notorious pol-

EVENING WORLD reporter led the raid on these most despirable of gamblers. Their the pitiable story of doors were broken in, and the six were made

June 28 THE EVENING Grand Jury indicted them. Five of them, when arraigned for trial, seeing that their cases were hopeless, pleaded guilty, and were Grandma Shephard, promptly sentenced. The sixth is now awaiting trial. A list of more than one hundred other > World to the police, and the policy men ad mitted that for once they had been brought to a standstill. The fight against the policy men, saids places was furnished by THE EVENING which the jigger railroad companies might be compelled to put conductors on their cars. It remained for

THE EVENING WORLD, however, to map out a campaign by which this result could be ac-

It held that the driver of the bobtail car, being ordered by the Company to drive, make change and act the part of the con suctor, was no more responsible than the Company, and in the case of an accident the Company was equally responsible with the driver. In the case of Mrs. Levy it claimed that the directors of the Twenty-third Street Railroad Company were as guilty of manslaughter al was the driver of the car that killed her. The law was carefully looked up, and finding that once more it could strike a blow in the people's cause, The Evening World pushed the case. It was ably aided by Coroner Messemer.

In spite of the protests of the Company's many counsel and the taking of the case to the Supreme Court, Coroner Messemer's jury brought in a verdict holding the directors responsible for Mrs. Levy's death. This and the concentrated attack against the swstem of conductorless cars brought the Company to its senses, and it has pledged itself to abolish the bobtail car entirely from its tracks. And this is one more victory added to The Evening World's long record.

The Sullivan-Mitchell fight in France was at its height, the sales came up to 142,439 and 155,640, respectively.

Aug. 21, the date of the Lyons execution, the sales climbed up to the splendid total of 174,429, and this in the face of a damp, dismit day, which kept thousands of people from the streets.

These are only scattering records, picked here and there from the books of the delivery department. The sales by editions and by grand totals, day by day, have presented all through the year the assurance, gratifying indeed to those who have worked to win it, that the people appreciate substantially the paper printed in the Poulism of the Sullivan-Mitchell fight in France was at its height, the sales came up to 142,439 and 155,640, respectively.

Aug. 21, the date of the Lyons execution, the sales climbed up to the splendid total of 174,429, and this in the face of a damp, dismethed the surface of a damp, dismethed to the sales climbed up to the splendid total of 174,429, and this in the face of a damp, dismethed up to the splendid total of 174,429, and the sales climbed up to the splendid total of 174,429, and this in the face of a damp, dismethed up to the splendid total of 174,429, and this in the face of a damp, dismethed up to the splendid total of 174,429, and this in the face of a damp, dismethed up to the splendid total of 174,429, and this in the face of a damp, dismethed up to the splendid total of 174,429, and this in the face of a damp, dismethed up to the EVENING WORLD'S long record.

ABOVE ALL A NEWSPAPER.

Record of Some of "The Evening World's " News Achievements.

Above all a newspaper.

That has been the spirit of THE EVENING World from the first day of its publication. Animated by this spirit, it has gone through this first year of its existence in a way which has brought it distinction both for the broadness of its policy in the pursuit of news and for the originality of its methods, Indeed, in its originality, as well as its completeness of resource, is found the key to the paper's phenomenal success and its growth in popular esteem.

Up to the time that THE E VENING WORLD made its appearance in the field, no afternoon journal in New York had been con ducted upon the true journalistic principle of giving not only the news, but all the news. This was for lack of disciplined forces to gather and serve the news matter in the time allowed for the work each day, that time being of necessity much more limited, with afternoon journals than in the case of the morning publications.

The new paper very speedily began to show its strength in this respect. It has continued to do so up to this happy day of its first anniversary, and the strength has grown with its well-directed exercise.

THE EVENING WORLD has been a complete paper for itself every day, with its own stories worked up by its own corps of intelligent and indefatigable reporters

In no case has the paper's completeness of work 'een better illustrated than in the mat-ter of william R. Foster, jr.'s swindling operations with the Produce Exchange Gra tuity Fund. The disclosures attending this case formed in the first place a splending news beat for The Evening World There the details were gathered by a specially assigned force of reporters larger than the whole staff of most of the paper's afternoon

Contemporaries.

The result was a story so complete that when the morning papers came to the case they found the ground all covered and could only enlarge upon what had already been

This was a reversal of the established order This was a reversal of the established order of things in New York newspaper work.

But if The Eversing World were to launch itself upon a narration of the news beats and scoops which have marked its course all through the year, its columns to-day would contain little else.

Mentioned without regard to chronological order, the scoop in the Foster case, just referred to, stands perhaps at the head of the list.

Other news beats, selected at random from

THE EVENING WORLD files, which teem with them, have been these:

The $5,800 robbery from the Bank of the Republic, Blaine's letter on Cleveland in the American Majazine, the schedule of the National Baseball League games as arranged at the Winter meeting, first story in America of the great Mitchell-Sullivan fight at Chantilly and of many subsequent the great Mitchell-Sullivan fight at Chantilly and of many subsequent developments concerning that affair, the startling accident at Roosevelt Hospital, when a patient was wheeled into the open elevator shaft: Mr. Powderly's decision in the case of Quinn and District Assembly 49, the first announcement of New York's unanimous choice of Thurman for second place on the National ticket; the for second place on the National toket; the clearing up of the Alice Hoyle murder mystery; the story of Edwin Booth's projected $135,000 home for actors; the marriage of Lilian Hamers ey and the Duke of Marlborough; first news of the big fire at the Unio Square Theatre; first story of the dea h of Broker Nathaniel W. Hatch at the residence of Mrs. Stofield; first report of Gandaur and McKay's victory over Teemer and Hamm on Saratoga Lake; first news of the K Iran-Smith, Dempsey-Reagan and Havlin-Murphy fights, and of many others of lesser importance; first and best story of the fire and loss of life at 197 Bowery; first report of the sinking of the steamship feiser, in collision with the Thingvalla, where over one hundred lives were lost; first report of the death of Bridge-jumper Larry Donovan a Charing Cross; first announcement of the death of Bridge-jumper Larry Donovan c' Charing Cross; first announcement of the presence of ye low fever in the city, in Prof. Proctor's case, first news of the destruction of the steamer Bay Ride, c, first news of the knighting of John Thompson by Queen Vic-toria for his action on the fish treaty; first story of the absconding of Bookkeeper J. T. Van Loan, of the Second National Bank of Jersey City: first announcement of Goy Van Loan, of the Second National Bank of Jersey City; first announcement of Gov. Hill's calling of a special legislative seasion July 17; expose of clarvoyant fortune-tellers, devotees of "Black Art;" first news of the Brooklyn Navy-Yard conspiracy disclosures; first announcement of Chiara Cignarale's commutation.

Not mentioned at all in the brief list thus given are the records made in other matters of news where jealous contemporaries were completely outstripped.

Magnificent newspaper work was done by

At the six days' walking match, in Febru ary, when the record was gallantly broken by Jimmie Alberts, THE EVENING WORLD, through its regular and its extraeditions presented a continued and upparalleled s the great contest, from its beginning to its Close.

The executions of Danny Driscoll and The executions of Danny Driscoll and Danny Lyons were two other events of the journal's first year in which it scored undeniable triumphs as a news gatherer and a newspaper. It was, in each case, the first paper to appear upon the street with an actual report of the execution and its methods of accomplishing this result obtained a wide notice, from their ingenuity and effectiveness.

That the public appreciated the efforts of the paper and the results accomplished has been evidenced by the steadily growing circulation of The Evening World and its rapid passage from the experimental state to rapid passage from the experimental state to the condition of an established unit in jour-pers, there have been the daily fluctuations of circulation, but through all of them there has been the element of growth, placing the paper each day upon a more solid basis of days. On Jan. 23, 1888, when the hanging of Dris-coll took place, 145,779 copies of the paper were sold.

March 9 and 10, two days when interest in the Suilivan-Mitchell fight in France was at Unique Series of Novelties That the Town Talked About.

periences of prominent precinct commanders, and which they had met with in their line of official duty.

Never was the adage that "truth is stranger than fiction more strikingly exemplified than

The stories dealt with some of the most memorable cases in the criminal history of the metropolis, and derived a unique interest from the fact that the authors were officially concerned in tracing them. The stories were widely read and were the talk of the town for several months. Besides present precinct commanders, Supt. Murray and Inspectors Steers, Williams, Byrnes and Conlin contributed stories. The portrait of the writer was printed with each story, and, in many instances, fac similes of their signs.

THE EVENING WORLD'S" STEREOPTICON. Perhaps the Most Novel Feature of Recen

EVENING WORLD stereopticon deserves menion. The idea of effect of a stereopticon and its paporamic canvas had never before been attempted in any news aper ever published. The mechanical difficulties seemed insuperable. But THE EVENING WORLD's clever artists successfully surmounted them, and on Sept. 14, our stereopticon man took up his position at the left of the page and ca t his pungent sayings, political hits and taking cartoons on every column. The scheme attracted widespread attention, and brought many notices complimentary of its originality and effectiveness. The stereopticon man has been under strict injunctions to hit folly as it flies, to screen no fraud, but to blazen his epigrams and cartoons in entirely independent fashion. And though the old gentleman has always given his show for one cent with the rest of the paper thrown in, he has made it t he most effective and most quoted stereopticon of the campaign. One of our up-country contemporaries thus notices the exhibition : "The brightest, sharpest and pithiest things said during ed daily on the screen of THE EVERING WORLD stereopticon man. They are the es-sence of political wisdom and the extract of political wit. THE EVENING WORLD'S stereptioon enables that sparkling newspaper to indelibly impress its readers with its epigrammatic sayings. They are not all confined to polities, but touch on all sorts of passing events, varying the legends by striking little cartoons from time to time."

OUR CONVENTION BULLETIN SERVICE.

Wire from the Convention Platform to

A staff representative of the paper was detailed to the Convention for the sole purpose of arranging a quick and accurate bulleting service corded during the Republican National Convention at Chicago last

He had a seat in Convention Hall next to pneumatic tube which ran to a special Postal Telegraph wire. This wire was directly connected with THE EVENING WORLD editorial rooms, where a copy of each bulletin was taken for the composing-room and the circuit extended to a blackboard in front of THE WORLD office, where an operator copied the same bulletin at the same moment for the benefit of the multitude which was eagerly waiting for the news.

Every important action of the Convention was thus displayed before the crowd almost simultaneous with its occurence. This was a feat which has never before been accomplished by a New York newspaper.

THE ROLL OF HONOR.

How Studious Habits Have Been Enco

umns a Roll of Honor on which appear the names of the pupils standing highest in the primary classes of our public schools. The list appears every Saturday, and the bright scholar who stands at the head of his cla has the proud satisfaction of seeing that his efforts do not go by unrecognized. Its beneficial effects have been universally acknowl. edged by the teachers, who say that since its establishment they have noticed a marked improvement among their charges. A proper spirit of emulation has thus been established among these little seekers for wisdom which will be of inestimable benefit to them in their struggle with the world.

A Specimen of the Liveliest Work Accom plished in Journalism.

There would be a great void in the stories of THE EVENING WORLD's first year triumphs if no mention were made of its record as a daily purveyor of news from all departments of outdoor sport.

To use a highly improper but wonderfully expressive mixture of metaphor, the young paper's Sporting Extra has outsailed, outrun and knocked out all competition in this di

Appearing upon the streets promptly at the close of the events of greatest interest, day by day, the Extra has been eagerly sought and read by the multitude, while its bright points in news-gathering have been taken advantage of and copied by contemporaries quick to appreciate the excellencies they could not originate.

Because baseball has been a topic upper most in the minds of Gotham's most patriotic majority, the issuance of the Extra each day has usually followed thefinal play each day has usually followed thefinal play of the game wherein our own Ginnts participated, and in this field, as a complete chronicler of the diamond's continuous events, The Evening World points with pardonable pride to its score.

The New York team has always figured first in its estimation, and even when the Giants were well down in the list the paper stood manfully by, with its friendly word of tion. The idea of producing in the columns of a newspaper the unique of the columns of the columns of a newspaper the unique of the columns o was first to show in its columns, as it did on the very day the result was reached, that the pets of the metropolis had got their grip on the pennant. The recent presentation of a fine set of testimonial bats shows The Evening World's sturdy championship of the boys who have now made themselves champions.

But the Giants have not had all the attention. Brooklyn's Bridegrooms and Jersey City's skilful ball-tossers have received inli recognition, and every game on every diamond of more than passing interest from any cause has been the object of special notice and report

Of the races, from the great Suburban down, the Extra has printed the fullest and most reliable news, never contenting itself with the bare sta ement of results which characterize feebler efforts at furnishing sport ng intelligence.

Racing on waier, by sail and oar, has been followed with the same care, details and results being given where contemporary col-umns gave weak generalizations and timid predictions gathered from hearsy sources far from the scenes of the actual contests. In matters pugilistic THE EVENING WORLD has established a series of remarkable scoops has established a series of remarkable scoops over all its contemperaries.

The Kilrain-Smith encounter, the Mitchell, Sullivan match, the Reagan-Dempsey affair, the Havlin-Murphy fight—all these were first and most fully and graphically described in Extra issues of this journal. "Above all a newspaper" has been the rule in this direction, as in all others; and this rule requires

(Continued on Third Page.)

CHICKERING HALL.

SECOND OF THE FREE COURSE O NEW LECTURES BY DK. GREENE, OF 35 WEST 14TH ST., NEW YORK.

The Germ Theory of Disease and Its Prac-tical Lessons-Something All Are Interested in knowing.

second of his new free course of magnificently illustrated lectures before a vast audience in Chickerin Hall last evening. If not the most beautifully illus-trated, it certainly was one of the most interesting and nstructive of Dr. Greene's wonderfully ent-

Dr. Greene is a deep student of diseases and ranks high as an authority, particularly as a specialist in chronic or long-standing diseases, in the cure of which he undoubtedly stands without a rival. His long incetigations among diseases naturally led him to per severing and patient researches for remedies them. Seeing so much of the injurious effects and harmful results to the sick from the use of possences druss, he was led to study and investigate the harmless veg table medicines found in the laboratory of nature— those healing, strengthening and invigorating remedies which an all-wise Providence has so bountifully provided for the cure of all our ills.

The Doctor's success in the cure of disease by means of these natural medicines has been most remarkable. No other mode of treatment ever before cured so large a percentage of chronic or lingering diseases. Cert no other form of treatment is so widely praised and So Thankfully Spoken of by the thousands upon thousands of sufferers who have been cured by Dr. Greene's vegetable remedies. His discoveries of the healing and restorative pow of these medicines have been remarkable. Medicines have been adapted to the treatment and cure of all the arious symptoms and conditions of chronic affect and it is rare indeed that sufferers from any form a and it is rare indeed that sufferers from any form of long-standing disease, who apply to him for restoration from their complaints, fall to receive a cure by the use of his wonderful remedies, One of his discoveries in medicine has become of nized cure and standard remedy for nervous disease. This, it need hardly be stated, is his wonderful disc ery known everywhere as Dr. Greene's Nervura Nervo Tonic. Scarcely a drug store can be found at the present day where sufferers from nervous diseases on obtain this marvellous remedy, for it is recognized b all-physicians, druggists, and the people alike-as the greatest and best medicine ever discovered for these

There is no other known remedy which is applie to so great a number and to so varied kinds of symp-toms and conditions as Dr. Greene's Nervura Nerva Tonic. This is because it is a true nerve ren restorer of nerre force, an invigorator of nerve power and a builder up of nerve, strength and energy. It is an acknowledged fact that a very large proportion of the diseases which afflict humanity are of a nervous character, or at least have their foundation in a weakened, exhausted, or enervated condition of the nervous system. This readily explains, therefore, why this we cures almost every person who uses it. It effects cure because it goes directly to the cause of the disease; that is, the weakened and exhausted perve power. By thus removing weakness and restoring tone, vitality and strength to the tired brain and worn-out nerves, a sure ure is always the result. nds of people need this valuable remedy who rould find its marvellous powers

Just What They Require to restore health, if they had the good sense to go to their nearest drug store and purchase for one dellar this giver of renewed life and strength. Thousa can be easily and readily cured by the use of this me It is just what the brain-tired banker, business man needs to restore the strength and activity of the brain, and remove those pervous sensations which result from overwork or strain of brain and perw clerk or workman who has worn out his nervous vitality and exhausted his nerve powers by too close confine ent, overwork or dusipation. nd old men to recuperate their exhausted vital powers and give vigor and energy to their nerves.

It is what weak, tired and nervous women must have f they would recover health, strength and vitality. They are overworked, sleepless, exhausted alike in nere and body, run down from worry, bereavements or other strain upon their nerves and constitutions, and they can find in this remedy the only certain and sure cure. Young girls, weak and nervous children, irritable and estless infants can be readily restored to a healthy con-lition of nerve strength and vital power by the use of this truly wonderful nerve remedy. It may be used freely and fearlessly by all, for it is perfectly harmles being made entirely from pure bealth-giving and strength-restoring vegetable medicines. We feel that too great a degree of praise cannot be bestowed upon a remedy which is productive of so much good to the community, for anything which possessed such wondrous powers of restoring health as Dr. Nerve Tonic is so that the sick and suffering everywhere should be told of its great and marvellous merits. In this way all who need its curative virtues can have restored to them

That Greatest of All Blessings. bealth. It can be obtained at any drug store for one dollar per bottle. tollar per bottle.

It may be here stated also that while this is doubtless the best known of Dr. Greene's remedles, it is no less a fact that his other medicines for the many and varied fact that his other medicines for the many and varied forms of chronic diseases are equally successful in effecting cures, as thousands upon thousands of suffeces who have been restored to perfect and permanent health and strength by their use can testify. Dr. Greene can be consuited by those who have need of his great skill and health-giving medicines absolutely free. Consultation and advice personally or helder. ion and advice, personally or by letter, are in all cases free of charge, the only cost to be cured being for the medicines which are required. The Doctor's office is ab 35 West 14th st., New York, and his office hours are from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. daily; Sundays, 9 A. M. to 12 M. All are welcome, and no one who is suffering from any form of chronic disease need hesitate to call for examination and advice. Dr. Greene's new book, "Facts Worth Knowing," will be mailed free to any address.

Chickering Hall a new free private lecture to gentle only on the Philosophy of Manhood. This is an absolutely new private lecture for gentlemen, never before delivered, and is of the highest possible interest, being upon those great questions which are of the most vital importance to man. The lecture will be illustrated by the stereoption. Admission is free, and we should be all means advice gentlemen to attend, promising them that they will not be disappointed. This afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a free private lecture to ladies only, illustrated by the stereopticon. Admission is free, and those who desire to know about their physical condition in health and disease should not miss this value

Italy's Queen as a Mountain Climber. [From the Chicago Tribune.]
The Queen of Italy spent the last fortnight of August at Courmayeur, which is a favorite resort of Her Majesty. During her stay she distinguished herself as an Alpine tourist, making five considerable mountain ascents within ten days. Accompanied by two of her ladies and a chamberiam, with servants and guides, Queen Margaret first ascended hount Cramont, which is over 8,000 feet high, and rext day wear up he Combal as far as the lake, which is at a height of he rit 9,750 feet. I wo days later she made the asce t of Mount Size, a fatiguing climb of eight hours; and next day ascended a count Cheff, 9,500 feet high. The most sections expedition was the ascend of Mount Geant, which ries to over 11,000 feet. The hrst 7,000 feet were accomplished in manifecture weather; then a storm arose, which speedily passed into a hurr cane of show. The vistors at Courmayeur watched with painful auxiety them wements of the little carawan, all tied with open a finey became helden from view by the whirtwind of show. It was a great fewer when two mortes shots announced their arrival at the Pavillon for tes. Here the Queen passed the night in a herself as an Alpine tourist, making five considerof snow. It was a great twist at the Pavilles anota announced their arrival at the Pavilles Crites. Here the Queen passed the night is a mis-rable little room; she determined avat morning to proceed in spite of the weather, and reached the summ t. She arrived back at Courmayeur by 6 o'clock in the evening, amil the jubilation of the little community.

[From the Boston Herald,]
A game-dealer in Philadelphia has received an order from Prince Biamarck for a dozen pairs of t order from Prince Blamarck for a dozen pairs of the first canvas-back ducks that come to market. A similar order has been re celved from Wilkis Collina, and other English epidures, like licery living, keep a sharp eye out for these succeives birds from the Cheapeake. No country in the world can match either these birds or some of the other specimens that are the prey of our sportament. Wilkie Collina is said to have written his best movel on the inspiration furnished by New Jersay snipe.

But THE EVENING WORLD knows no such word as fall. For over six weeks one of its ablest representatives was employed in quietly working up another phase of the case. Josie's uncle, John Shephard, jr., of Rochester, was anxious to adopt and educate the boy. A veritable mountain of evidence was secured, showing Mr. Shephard's excellent character and ability to care for his nephew. The Mayor of Rochester, the charitable societies of the locality, judges, lawyers, clergymen and scores of leading citizens took a personal interest in the case, and lent their testimony. On Sept. 17 this evidence was laid before the Asylum Committee. Its conclusiveness was admitted, weeks to the gratuitous treatment of the sick children of the poor. found to do. He gave each individual case as careful attention as could have been behis prescriptions without charge when dainty baby clothing for distribution.

THE WAR ON POLICY. How a Salutary Lesson Has Been Taught

TS war on the policy gamblers is another of THE EVENING WORLD'S battles of which it may justly be proud. The police admitted know. ing of the existence of this petty gambling, but confessed their inability to gather convicting evidence. The policy shop is the meanest den of vice. whole time to unearthing these gambling places and getting information about the men icy writers. At the head of a squad of policemen an

In the police court they were held, and the stely outs from being a great piece of newspaper enter course, with this, as with all newspapopular support.

Recognition of its especially prompt and good pieces of journalistic enterprise has told bravely in the circulation for certain

THOSE POLICE CAPTAINS' STORIES.

the most striking ex-

in this series of reminiscences.

